To Whom It May Concern:

It has been my pleasure to deal with Summit Restoration since 2005. In Real Estate, mold has become a significant problem. Summit has been so helpful in handling a situation that few understand and most fear – very important when selling a home with a mold history.

Summits professionalism has really helped to ensure the new home buyers that the property is not a detriment to their family's health.

Due to this, I have GREAT confidence in Summit's ability to handel any mold remediation projects.
